CABERNET SAUVIGNON

1991

This 1991 Cabernet Sauvignon is a delightful wine in all respects and bears a strong resemblance to our 1981 and 1990 vintages. The aroma is rich, displaying a concentrated herbal fruit character complemented by floral undertones. The predominant flavor is one of ripe, red currants and berries offset by soft, mouth-coating tannins. The result is a beautifully balanced wine. For further complexity, this wine was blended with 3% Merlot to enrich the body and texture and 4% Cabernet Franc to gain additional fruitiness.

As in the past, we aged this wine for two years in both French and American oak barrels. Like the 1990 vintage, this Cabernet is a collector's item that shouldn't be missed.

90 "... medium-full body; forward, rich, cedary, green olive, ripe berry fruit flavors with good depth and a velvety mouth feel; medium-full tannin; ... lingering aftertaste Superior quality. This Cabernet is relatively mature and enjoyable to drink now. Very highly recommended."

The first Grgich Hills Cabernets were made in 1980. This 1991 exhibits the same firmness and elegance, the same intensity of flavor and bouquet and the same long finish that distinguished the first of the line of 11 vintages.
